

Make the most of your precision farming systems with Gatekeeper CLAAS Essentials

The simplest way to unite all of your data in one place

Working in partnership, Farmplan and CLAAS have launched 'Gatekeeper CLAAS Essentials'. This new offering provides essential crop management software for the grower and contractor at a price that offers great value for money.

It allows the user to integrate with CLAAS Cebis and S10 displays* (AFT & ISOXML) but excludes some of the additional Gatekeeper features that would not be required for the entry level user. This means a streamlined but comprehensive software tool.

Customers should contact Farmplan direct in order to speak to one of their specialists. They will be able to confirm the individual requirements, licence details and discuss any questions they may have. They can also arrange for a demonstration.

The licence starts at £540 per year, with support included in the annual charge. This provides technical support, software updates and data backups.
